

Commissioner Olga Hernandez-Smith

Ms. Hernandez-Smith currently dedicates her time to charitable and political organizations in the Greater Washington DC Area. She recently retired as a board certified Optician and Optical Business Manager for Luxottica after 21 years.

She is working with the family to organize a scholarship fund for her stepson, Sgt. David J. Smith, who died in Afghanistan serving his second tour. The scholarship fund will be awarded to a student of Frederick County that will attend East Carolina University and a graduating senior from Frederick High School who will attend a university in the U.S.

As a Honduran-American, she is committed to working with the Hispanic community and reaching out to them to support their rights as new U.S. Citizens. Ms. Hernandez-Smith has worked with the Republican Election Committee for Senator Alex Mooney. She strongly believes in reaching out to the Hispanic community to help educate and encourage their right to vote. In addition, she worked
